Council Meeting of March 23

The regular meeting of the town council had a rather short agenda but lasted some time due to debate.

Fire Chief Kinnear questioned the council on the reason for the firemen being paid by cheque. It was asked if the men would have to pay income tax on this money. Council declared that they felt that income tax would not have to be paid in this respect.

Mr. Kinnear then presented the council with a certificate of merit from the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Mr. Cornett, on behalf of Police Chief Corson, asked council to give serious thought to the town licence by-law and the enforcement of same. Mr. Corson was then called into the Chambers to iron out the situation. Council agreed on a wording of the by-law to read — Any tradesman operating within the Town of Coleman, must pay a licence of $10, and must present their Certificate of Proficiency.

Council received a letter in regard to the selling of tickets on a pool with the operators being the Athletic Association. Council referred the matter to the Police Commission with the stipulation that there be no soliciting in business establishments.

Mr. McEwen requested that council have something done about the cars parked in the vicinity of his home.

At present he is not able to park his car near the house. Council informed the Chief of Police that the offenders are to have their vehicles moved as soon as possible.

Maps of the proposed sub-division development areas were presented with the council filing these until the April meeting so that on-site discussion could be held.

A request from Mr. Olynuk to demolish a house on Lot 2, Block K in West Coleman was given permission.

Engineers plans of the sewerage system were discussed at length, with the result that they be accepted. Mayor Holyk and Councilors Fielewich were against the proposal. Bids received on the sewer system were —

Patrick Construction, $391,110.28; Poole Engineering, $407,192.00; Cunningham and Shannon, $361,845.68; G. C. McLeod, $678,740.23; Burns and Dutton, $476,714.45; and Tollestrup Construction, $348,476.78. After revision, due to additions being made to the original plan, the extra work was removed and the final bid accepted by the council was of Tollestrup Construction for the amount of $280,093.78.

An application was read concerning the position of dog catcher. Formerly the statement was made that a dog catcher had been acquired. This information, apparently was false, or a misunderstanding on the part of the reporter. After a letter was read a lengthy discussion took place.

The Chair held this letter for a considerable length of time with the councilors debating and getting nowhere. The Chair asked for a vote on the matter, with no result.

After the length of time spent advertising for this important personnel, and with only one application for the same, the council still shelved the matter until a later date.

The budget was finalized and handed down, with a few changes being made.

Elks Fund Aids Children In Need

"Few people here realize that the local lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of Canada and its auxiliary, The Order of the Royal Purple, will grant assistance to any needy child 16 years or under in this community, who may need medical attention, surgery, glasses, hearing aids, dentures, braces for limbs, artificial limbs, or the essential necessities of life which they are being deprived of through unemployment or sickness of the parents."

Sam T. Dare, Grand Exalted Ruler of the BPO Elks of Canada, said in a recent statement that last year BPO Elks and OOR Purple Lodges contributed a total of $75,000 to their National Objective in aid of children throughout Canada.

"Communities such as this need only apply to the local lodge and state the case of a child in need for their consideration," he said. "The National Fund," he added, "is solely supported by contributions from BPO Elks and the OOR Purple lodges."

"This Fund is unique in respect to other national charities as it names no specific disease or illness and provides assistance to any child in Canada regardless of race, creed or color," he concluded.

Good Progress at Phillips Cables Plant

Construction on the Phillips Cables Limited building at Sentinel is making good progress this month and according to Oland Construction of Lethbridge, who are doing the construction work, the building should possibly be ready for installation of equipment in approximately three to four weeks.

The new industry, involving an expenditure of some one and a half million dollars will employ 75 men. Terry Robertson, manager of the Blairmore offices of the National Employment Service, stated that arrangements have now been completed to interview approximately 150 prospective applicants for work in the plant.

Phillips representatives will be in the Crow's Nest Pass in mid-April to interview applicants. When in operation in late spring, the plant will fabricate all types of telecommunication cables.

The building, constructed of cinder-block, is 330 feet by 160 feet in size and besides the plant will house some of the company's offices. Oland Construction are presently laying over 1,000 cubic yards of cement to cover the $2,000 sq. feet of plant space. Work on the plant began October 8th and work was hampered by extremely cold weather conditions and high winds which, on one occasion, blew down the north wall of the building.

When the cement work is completed in some three weeks' time the installation of equipment will begin in the plant.

Some equipment is beginning to make its way into the Pass for the new plant. The Canadian Pacific Railway have built a spur line into the plant site from the main line, which runs north of the plant site.

With everything going well it is expected that the plant will be in operation in late spring.

The same Board of Directors will remain in office.

Mr. Koenigs stated he would act as president for several months until someone else could be elected.

Fireball Seen In The Pass

Many residents of Coleman and the Crow's Nest Pass district report seeing a tremendous ball of fire in the sky late Wednesday night, March 31.

According to the various reports the object seemed to be travelling from south west to north east and was seen for a period of about five seconds. At first sight the object appeared to be a falling star and then rapidly grew into a large red orange color fireball, and appeared as if it were going to fall in the Pass.

During one stage of the fireball's path through the skies the entire Crow's Nest Pass was lit up with an almost daylight blue grey light which resembled that light given by a flash of lightning.

Forestry 'Road Use Permit' Required

A. Longworth, Forest Supt., at the Blairmore Forestry office, announced this week that it may become necessary to close roads within the Crow's Nest Forest to prevent damage during the spring break-up. These closures may be applied at any moment.

In order to prevent unnecessary hardship, the travelling public should contact the Forestry office at Blairmore prior to their use of any Forestry roads.

Emergency travel to project or work areas within the Crow's Nest Forest by commercial users requires a "Road Use Permit" for every vehicle used on closed Forestry roads. These permits may be obtained free of charge and the public are reminded that it is an offence to operate a vehicle on a closed road without the necessary permit.

Mr. Longworth stated that the road closures would be lifted at the earliest possible time and when the danger of excessive damage has either been eliminated or passed.

Get Grandma Talking

There is nothing our youngsters like better than to get their grandmother to talking about the good old days. They'll deliberately plan a conversation that will get her going.

At dinner, the other night, Franny said—"I guess in the old days almost every kid could milk a cow. Gee, we don't get to do things like that nowadays. Even on farms they've got milking machines."

Grandma began to get that glazed look in her eyes.

"Kids had better food then, too," Martha chipped in. "They had home-baked bread. — Boy . . . I wish we could have home-baked bread. Kids were lucky in the old days."

That started Grandma off.

"There's nothing stopping you from having home-baked bread," she said. "There's still flour, you know. When I was your age I baked for 14 men and more in harvest time. Land's sakes, I don't know why you couldn't bake up a batch of bread right now if you had a mind to."

"Will you show us? Can we, Mom?"

Turned out we had one of those dinky little paper bags of flour and no bread pan big enough to mix a respectable batch in.

We're going to get the makings, though, right soon, and Grandma is going to teach our twins to bake home-made bread — if she can get them away from TV long enough.

And there are to be other projects, — just like the old days. For Grandma is right. All that stops us from having home-baked bread, or home-made ice cream, or any one of a dozen luxuries enjoyed back in those days is — laziness. All the ingredients are still available. It is a bit hard to get cream in the city, perhaps, but it can be had if you're willing to pay enough. I mean the real stuff, from the cow — not the manufactured material some of the dairies call cream. One can still make a quilt, or tat a doily, too, for that matter.

What gets me, listening to Grandma, is where in the dickens they found time to do all those things. They're done for us, these days, and yet we seem busier than ever. How come? I'll have to get Grandma talking again one of these nights and see if I can find their oldtime secret. I'm a little afraid I know the answer already. They didn't loaf as much as we do!

(By Ambrose Hills)

Election Fever

Whenever election time rolls around, politicians get a fever. The fever brings on a state of delirium, and in smoke-filled rooms or back offices at campaign headquarters you can hear them moaning, "What else can we offer? Think of something new to give away!"

These delirious rantings, unfortunately, result in some campaign planks and promises put out in fancy literature. While a number of them get forgotten five minutes after the returns are in, some of the most fantastic are so boldly stated that they must be acted upon. Virtually all of them call for massive increases in civil servants, and another tax of one kind or another to bump up the price of goods.

As a provincial premier put it recently, — "The trends scare me. Our population and our national income are not increasing as fast as our debt — the cost of government climbs far faster than the number of people governed."

Politicians are not evil men. They regret election fever as much as anyone. They know the trend is a bad one for the country. They shake their heads and worry about the cost of all these goodies — but getting elected, they tell themselves, is important, and look what those pirates in other parties are offering!

There is a cure, fortunately. In an atmosphere of good sense, the fever abates. — When it becomes apparent that the voters are fed up to the teeth with being bribed, the brows of the politicians grow cool again and the delirium departs. Unfortunately, despite our fine educational system, there remains a solid hard core of very dumb voters who have not realized that they pay for every goody through increased prices as well as directly. These dunces think that the rich folks and the corporations pay the shot. If that were really true, there would be fewer rich people and corporations would not be announcing such satisfactory profits.

No, all those fancy promises are paid for by the ordinary people of the country, either in direct taxes or indirect ones, and through the increased price of virtually everything they buy. Once this sinks into the dumb skulls of voters, election fever will finally be cured.

Canada Theatre

(Clayton Bricker)

NFB, National Film Board, has the job of producing films for Federal Government departments, including National Defence.

A number of fine subjects are available for viewing by interested citizens. Others are restricted for use by our defence forces.

Among films which may be had for citizen viewing are Canada In World War One, which shows the First World War in context of world developments — before and since. From motion pictures of that period a vivid and authentic record of 1914-18 is presented.

An Enduring Tradition gives the history of the Royal Canadian Navy in war and peace. Action footage from our own and from captured German film makes this a colorful record.

Ghost Hunters takes us on a flight in the 'Argus' RCAF's 75-ton flying giant, to Gibraltar and back provides a convincing demonstration of Canada's wide ranging defence against underwater attack. Mapping For Defence illustrates the co-ordinated program for mapping Canada as carried out by survey teams of the Army and the Department of Mines and Technical Surveys.

On Their Merit gives an all-round view of Canada's three Military Services Colleges and the young Canadians they educate for leadership. Royal Military College, Kingston, Ontario; College Militaire Royal de Saint Jean, Quebec, and Royal Roads, Victoria, B. C., give outstanding educational training in their Regular Officer Training Plan.

Successful candidates win their commissions with degrees in Arts, Science and Engineering.

Reporting On Board portrays the broad scope of the naval officer's profession as we accompany three sub-lieutenants on their first sea-going appointment.

Rescue Party was designed for civil defence rescue workers. It is readily available through City Hall from our own Civil Defence Officer.

The film demonstrates five stages of rescue in removing trapped or injured persons from buildings damaged by blast or natural catastrophe. Emphasis is placed on accurate checking to be sure no persons are overlooked.

The Minister of Defence and his plans have been frequently in the news. Here are some informative films concerning this important Department which takes so much of our national budget.

OF INTEREST TO TRAIL RIDERS

Dear Sir:

We are planning another 200-mile competitive trail ride from Medicine Hat to the Calgary Stampede for this year.

Last year 54 riders completed the ride and it appeared to be a very successful ride. Some entries travelled close to 2,000 miles to participate in it and it was very well received by all the towns along the way. It was therefore decided to hold another ride this year and possibly make it an annual event. This is strictly a pleasure-type competitive trail ride on which riders are divided into age groups and are judged on horsemanship and condition of horse, and it is definitely not a race.

The Medicine Hat to Calgary Stampede 200 - Mile Competitive Trail Ride will be held from June 26th to July 3rd, which is the full week preceding the 1965 Calgary Stampede. We will ride in the Stampede Parade on July 5th after which we will have the presentation of "Trail Ride Trophies".

I might add that again this year we are not planning on charging any entry fee, as we are getting all trophies donated, but I would like all interested parties to contact me as soon as possible, as we would like to have all plans finalized by May 15th, which is the deadline for entries.

You will note that we are planning on taking eight days to complete this 200-mile ride. This is to keep the pace leisurely in consideration of the younger riders who will be on the ride, to allow visiting Trail Riders to see some of the surrounding countryside and points of interest, and to allow for any delays that may be caused along the trail. We also expect to have a Stage Coach and a Chuckwagon accompany the riders as they did last year, as well as other Covered Wagons on this year's ride.

Group entries, Horse Breeders' Association entries, Riding Club entries, Family entries, or individual Adult entries, are all most welcome. It would be greatly appreciated if you would pass this invitation on to all your readers, as we would very much like to have a good representation of Horsemen from the Coleman area on this 1965 ride.

Yours truly,

L. ERIC HANSEN

Convention Held on Saturday and Sunday, March 13 and 14 at Creston, B. C.

Official members, zone delegates and Ladies' Auxiliary delegates paraded at 2 p.m. on Saturday outside of the Legion building, and the parade then marched off, led by excellent music of the teen-age band of P.O.S.S. of Creston, under the leadership of their bandmaster, Art Whitred, to the Cenotaph and the Memorial Service to the Fallen Veterans, wreaths were placed by the Ladies' Auxiliary, Mrs. N. Vigne and Com. O. G. Young and the service was read by the branch's padre, Rev. D. D. Holt. We then returned to the Legion club rooms.

The zone meeting opened at 2:15 p.m. by Zone Chairman Com. O. F. Young and all delegates were then welcomed by the Creston Valley branch president, L. Huscraft.

Present at the meeting were Provincial Command, Bill Martin;

Zone Commander, Harry Broadhurst; D.C.A. representative, W. G. H. Roaf; Zone Chairman, Com. O. F. Young; 1st vice-president, Com. Bob Vigne; 2nd vice-president, Com. J. Representing the Provincial Command, Bill Martin gave a very interesting report of how to raise funds for the Centennial Year 1967 towards the bursary scholarships of veterans' children in every branch in the Provincial Command is asked to give their full support and we should encourage the youngsters to participate in going in for these scholarships in which the branches are assisting.

The J.O.T.P. sports is not only for youngsters to participate in, but to train young athletes in how to administer and to organize in the sports in the province, also to interest the parents in supporting this movement in which the Legion branches have undertaken.

The DVA representative, Com. W. G. H. Roaf gave his report on the subject of the present day flag question. We have to accept this flag, but where a veteran dies a choice of any of the three flags can be used at his funeral, namely the Union Jack, the present flag or the Red Ensign, having received this information it will clarify many of the veterans' minds of those present at the meeting.

APRIL 10 - 16

The N.H.L. semi-finals are in full swing with four games scheduled for telecasting this week on the CBC network. The fifth game of the Toronto-Montreal clash goes Saturday, April 10th at 7:30 p.m. CST. Sunday, the 11th, it's No. 5 in the Detroit-Chicago series at 7:30 p.m. CST.

Thursday, April 13th it's again Montreal versus Toronto in the 6th game and on Thursday, April 15th (if necessary) the seventh and deciding game in the battle between the two Canadian contenders.

All semi-final games except the seventh (if necessary) will be televised beginning one half hour after the opening face-off. The seventh game will be televised from opening face-off.

If the Toronto-Montreal series ends before the Chicago-Detroit series, CBC-TV will carry the remaining games between Chicago and Detroit.

On a designated day each spring enthusiastic crowds cheer from the banks of England's historic river Thames as dedicated scholars become do-or-die scullers for the glory of Oxford and Cambridge.

This year's edition of the traditional boat race will be covered on CBC-TV's World of Sport on Saturday, April 10 at 2 p.m.

Bob Hope heads the bill of fare for Timmy's Easter Parade of Stars this year. The incomparable comedian will be joined by music hall songstress Tessie O'Shea, mimic Rich Little, pop vocalists Bobby Curtola, Shirley Harmer and Doug Crosley. This All-Star variety show will be televised from Toronto's beautiful O'Keefe Centre for the Performing Arts, Sunday afternoon April 11, at 4 p.m.

Friday of this week is Good Friday — a day fittingly commemorated by several religious programs on the CBC-TV network. Probably the major presentation will be 'The Man Born To Be King', a dramatization by Dorothy L. Sayers of events in the life of Christ from His entry into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday to His betrayal by Judas and His arrest in the garden on the Mount of Olives. The drama, adapted for TV by Mavor Moore, was a winner of first prize in the 1962 Ohio State Awards competition for educational cultural and public affairs programming. It will be telecast at 8 p.m. and runs 90 minutes.

Another Good Friday program, entitled The Journey will show how Canadians from coast to coast, worship their God. The Vancouver production was written and will be produced by George Robertson and filmed by John Seale. Narration will be by Art Hives. 'The Journey' will be telecast at 10 p.m.

Other Good Friday special programs will include 'Behold The Lamb' at 3, featuring sacred music by the Acadia Chapel Choir and 'The Exaltation of Matter', an attempt to show how both labor and art create order out of chaos.

ALBERTA JUNIOR CITIZEN OF THE YEAR BULLETIN:

Important Message from T. Holstead
of The Coleman Journal

How you can help to give enterprising young Albertans the credit they deserve

I'm proud to be one of the many weekly newspaper editors who, every year, receive nominations from readers, for Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Awards. After all, isn't it true that meritorious conduct on the part of our youngsters deserves to be recognized? This is why I'm glad to hear about young people who you - my readers - believe deserve these Junior Citizen Awards. It may be an individual, or it may be a group of two or more (don't forget, there's a special award for groups).

How do our young people qualify? Well, good citizenship takes endless forms! Physical heroism. Community work. Undertaking exceptional responsibilities in the home. Church work. Going out of one's way to help someone in difficulty. I could go on for several columns! The important thing is, if you know of enterprising youngsters between 6 and 16 years, who have done something worthwhile since August 1964 ...

Just tell me about them

Be sure to include your own name and address. Nominators of winners are entitled to nominator certificates. Remember, too, all youngsters nominated will receive certificates of recognition. Contact me by letter, phone, or in person!

Valentine Colors Predominate In Pretty Notre Dame Wedding

Brilliant scarlet tulips, fragrant white stock, stately white gladioli and golden yellow spray "mums" carried out the Valentine colors in the beautiful floral arrangements used on the altar of Notre Dame chapel when Shirley Tillie Yamkowsky and David John Gentile repeated their vows and exchanged rings there on Saturday, February 7th, 1965.

Father Turgeon performed the ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Yamkowsky, Dawson Creek, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Gentile, Coleman, Alberta.

Mrs. Larry Hamel was the organist for the 4:00 p.m. ceremony. Miss Donna Fox, formerly of Dawson Creek, and now of Calgary, and the bride's younger sister, Miss Betty Yamkowsky, were the bridesmaids. Identically designed, their short frocks were fashioned of scarlet peau de soie, with overblouses of matching lace. Sleeves were just below the elbow and the neckline was rounded. They wore a white flower in their smartly coiffed hair and carried complementing circle bouquets of white "mums", combined with silver-threaded white net and satin ribbons.

Radiantly lovely was the fair-haired bride in her short frock of white organza. The bouffant skirt swirled to extreme fullness, appliqued with gimpure lace matching that which accented the oval neckline of the slim bodice, with its long sleeves tapered to points over the hands. A filmy chapel length veil misted from a crown of pearls and sequins. She wore a single strand of lustrous pearls, the gift of her groom and carried an exquisite bouquet of feathered white carnations centred with Cymbidium orchids, combined with golden shaded leaves and ribbon. Mr. Stephen Yamkowsky gave his daughter in marriage.

Cliff Smith was the best man and the ushers were Rick Nestor and Pat Ryan.

A largely attended reception followed at 6 p.m. in the new Legion hall, where the guests were received by the parents of the bride and groom and the bridal party.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Yamkowsky wore a smart frock of beige lace over matching satin, with cummerbund and side drape of stone beige organza. Her off-the-face cloche was beige with stone beige trim. Accessories were in tone and her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Bruno Gentile, the groom's mother, wore a smart three-piece double knit suit. Chanel jacket and skirt were charcoal gray and the overblouse pearl gray. Her veiled white pillbox was of flowers and her corsage of white "mums" centred with pink roses.

Made by the bride's mother and smartly decorated in white, with tiny red heart accents, by Mrs. Jim Patrick, the three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a bride and groom and wreath of white flowers, served as the centre-piece for the bridal table. Red candles completed the decor. Guest tables formed the other sides of the hollow square.

Catering for this, their first wedding reception in the new hall was in the hands of the L.A. to the Royal Canadian Legion No. 141.

Master of ceremonies was Cliff Smith, the best man.

Father Turgeon said Grace. Toast to the bride was proposed by Jack Baker and responded to by the groom. That to the bridesmaids was proposed by Pat Ryan and the numerous telegrams were read by Cliff Smith.

Neubauer's orchestra played for the wedding dance which followed.

For travelling to an unannounced destination, the bride changed to a cherry red skirt with matching cape and white blouse. Hat and accessories were black and her corsage of Cymbidium orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. David J. Gentile will make their home in Dawson Creek.

Out of town guests were the two girls with whom the bride made her "around the world trip", Miss Donna Fox, Calgary, who was one of the bridesmaids, Miss Karen Parker, Fort St. John, and Miss Barbara Fleming, Sydney, Australia, whom the girls met while on their tour.

Presently visiting in Canada, having arrived from London, England, where Miss Fleming worked for the Queen's Printer, she travelled from Toronto to Edmonton and stayed with Mrs. Pete Joyal, St. Albert, until she was joined by Miss Fox and came on to Dawson Creek.

Other guests came from Coleman, Stettler, Saskatchewan, Edmonton, Fort St. John and Hudson Hope.

'Check Your Car For Spring'

"Check your car for spring," urged the Canadian Highway Safety Council in announcing its annual April - May car-check campaign. The campaign opens on Saturday, and ends on Monday, May 31. Vehicles leaving a hard winter of driving need a thorough going-over by a trained technician, the Council stated.

Although they are annually flooded with spring car-check business, car dealerships, independent garages and service stations, from coast to coast, join with the Council in this drive to reduce the number of unsafe vehicle on Canada's streets and highways.

S. E. Swallow, Oakville, Ont., chairman of CHSC's vehicle safety committee said "In these days of extended maintenance periods and self adjusting components it is all too easy for the owner to overlook the fact that fear and fear is continually going on. There was a day when it was painfully obvious to him but today only the trained technicians can really tell if all is well."

"So we urge every motorist to take his car to an established technician and have it thoroughly and competently inspected. In this way trouble can be prevented before it contributes to an accident on the road."

Mr. Swallow is director of service for the Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd. and has been active in road safety promotion for many years.
